BACKGROUND

The Banking, Financial Services, and Insurance (BFSI) sector plays a pivotal role in every aspect of economic development, from driving trade and investments to enabling infrastructure development and fostering financial inclusion. In Nepal and the broader South Asian region, the BFSI sector serves as the backbone of economic progress, supporting critical industries and ensuring sustainable growth. Recognizing its significance, the Banking, Finance, and Insurance Institute of Nepal (BFIN) and the India-Nepal Center of the PHD Chamber of Commerce and Industry (PHDCCI) have consistently collaborated on programs that address emerging trends and challenges in the BFSI sector. These initiatives aim to exchange knowledge, share innovations, and strengthen cross-border economic ties between Nepal and India.

In line with this tradition, Nepal BFSI Summit has emerged as a flagship event to foster collaboration and knowledge-sharing. Building on the success of its two previous editions, the Nepal BFSI Summit 2024 shifts focus to one of the most pressing global priorities: green financing and sustainable development. The third edition aims to position the BFSI sector as a key enabler of climate resilience by supporting initiatives that reduce carbon emissions and promote long-term sustainability.

This year's summit provides a platform for stakeholders from across the region to explore innovative financing solutions, regulatory frameworks, and public-private partnerships (PPP). It highlights the immense potential of the BFSI sector to address emerging challenges, such as climate risks, while simultaneously driving sustainable economic growth. By bringing together policymakers, financial institutions, and industry experts, the event seeks to inspire actionable strategies that advance green financing and position Nepal and India as regional leaders in sustainability-focused economic development.
